

ProFormance CANINE

Let's get you back in the game!

The most advanced orthopedic solutions for your performance dog

Dr. Brian Huss is excited to introduce the opening of ProFormance Canine, Inc., a comprehensive sports medicine facility in Harvard, MA. We have been working with sporting and performance dogs and their human partners for many years. ProFormance Canine allows us to utilize our expertise to push the limits of current surgical care and return these athletes to their full performance level.

We will also continue offering specialty surgical care for all dogs and cats.
